When a Child Need a Laxative!

Your child should have this tasty liquid laxative only when needed like the gentle way it usually wakes up a youngster's appetite when given by the doctor's Castoria.

SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT contains the same principal ingredient which has enabled its older brother BLACK-DRAUGHT to give so many users such satisfying relief for so many years!

Perhaps that's why it usually gives a child such refreshing relief when the familiar symptoms indicate a laxative is needed.

SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT comes in 2 sizes. The introductory size is 25c; the economy size is 50c.

Gas masks which came into use in warfare for the first time when the Germans used poison and mustard gas in World War I, are much improved today over those used then. The Chemical Warfare Branch of the War Department issues these gas masks to every man in the service. We are taking no chances.

The type pictured here is the "can" and "elephant nose" mask and costs about $9.25 each. The headgear is transparent, made of material resembling cellophane and does not cloud with the breath. You can buy two of these gas masks with the purchase of an $18.75 War Bond. We need thousands of them. Don't fail to give at least ten percent of your income every pay day for War Bonds. Buy them at your bank or postoffice, regularly.

Tractors and motors will never wholly replace the Army Mule as a factor in the mobile units of our army. The Army Mule is a tradition and the "mule skinner" is a breed unto himself. Army Mules are used by the Field Artillery and the Cavalry in areas where the terrain is rough and tractors cannot operate.

Pack trains in mountainous sectors are often necessary and here the mule, slow but sure-footed, plays an important role. Our Army buys thousands of mules paying from $175 to $190 for each. The mule eats less, carries more, and some declare is smarter than the horse. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps helps pay for these Army Mules. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day.

Hitler found out that his high powered mechanized motorized army bogged down in the snow and mud of the Russian Winter. Although our Army is largely mechanized the cavalry horse is still a highly essential factor in this mounted division and in the Field Artillery. The Army also maintains remount farms where many cavalry horses are bred and raised.

These select horses cost from $100 to $165 and our crack cavalrymen are expert riders and carry on the traditions which have followed the cavalry from the earliest days of the Army. Purchase of War Savings Bonds will insure good mounts for the Cavalry. You and your neighbors buying War Bonds and Stamps regularly every pay day can help buy these horses for the U. S. Cavalry. Invest at least 10 percent of your income in War Bonds.

Canada's Men and Women Train for War Work

CANADA'S War Emergency Training Program, created to produce a pool of skilled personnel which will be available to the war industries and armed forces, continues to expand. A chief factor in this far reaching program is the inclusion of courses for women.

At the end of February there were 14,978 men and women attending the 108 schools operating in cooperation with the provincial governments and municipal boards of education. Women represented about 40% of the students enrolled in the Ontario schools during January and more than 30% of those actually placed with industry.

Most of the training is being done in pre-employment classes, some sponsored by individual manufacturers. Firms select students and send them to school to be trained. Photo 1 shows a member of an optical instrument class doing a little extra-curricular work. Photo 2: As the armbands explain, these students are in a pre-enlistment class of the Royal Canadian Air Force in radio mechanics. On passing a trade test after completion of the course, these men will be taken into the R.C.A.F. as radio technicians.

Industrial chemistry is another specialized course, with most classes sponsored by industry. Photo 3: This young lady is an example of how well women fit into this type of endeavor. She will step from school right into a specialized job. Even the Army utilizes the trade education offered to civilians. Photo 4: This soldier is learning carpentry, as part of a program which includes metal work and auto-mechanics. Photo 5: In all courses experienced craftsmen give individual instructions, as in this example a young girl and boy are checking the fine points of wing rib constructions for aircraft.

Will Spur Work on Man-Made Rubber

Schedule Calls for 400,000 Tons by 1943.

NEW YORK—Planned expansion of synthetic rubber plants will be carried through on a scale that will make the United States at least 50 per cent independent of natural rubber sources within little more than a year, the American Petroleum Industries committee predicted.

Reviewing the progress of the synthetic program sponsored by the government, the committee pointed out that present plans call for production of 400,000 tons of synthetic rubber annually by 1943, compared with estimated annual rubber requirements of 800,000 tons.

This program, it added, will be based "almost entirely" on oil and natural gas as raw materials.

The major problems on which this expansion depends, the committee said, are government financing, steel priorities and possible conflict with the petroleum industry's program for production of 100-octane aviation gasoline.

The committee predicted that priorities also would be granted for the high-grade alloy steels needed to build the new plants required for the $400,000,000 synthetic rubber program, because of the government's interest in the project.

While details of any possible conflict with the rapidly expanding aviation gasoline production have not yet been clarified, the committee predicted that the petroleum "starting point" — butanes, isobutanes, butylenes and other gaseous hydrocarbons in cracked refinery gasses and natural gas which are used in both synthetic rubber and 100-octane gasoline—would be made available.

Shipbuilding Is Booming In the Port of Savannah

SAVANNAH, GA.—The seaport of Savannah is booming with defense activities, latest of which calls for the outlay of $60,000,000 in building concrete tankers for oil cargoes within a year.

The MacEvoy Shipbuilding company, under direct contract with the United States Maritime commission, will build the 6,000-ton tankers. The company expects to employ 10,000 men during the first year.

Work has started already and the first keel will be laid early in March. A minimum of 30 tankers will be built during the first year. Operations are on a 24-hour-a-day basis.

The tankers will be 360 feet long and will carry 15,000 tons of oil. Construction costs are estimated at only one-half that of steel ships.

Old shipbuilding facilities here are being reconditioned and three of the 10 existing ways were put in condition in 10 days.

The construction of these new facilities gives Savannah three shipbuilding concerns. One company is building merchant marine ships while the other is turning out minesweepers for the navy.

Grapes $6 and Salmon $3 Per Pound in London

LONDON.—Exorbitant prices are being charged for what before the war were considered only moderate luxuries. Today grapes were selling for 30 shillings (about $6) a pound, while fresh salmon sold for 15 to 21 shillings (about $3 to $4.20) a pound.

Home grown pears were selling three shillings six pence to four shillings (about 72 to 80 cents a pound. Mushrooms bring eight shillings (about $1.60). Most prices quoted are about 1,000 per cent above the prewar figures.

Lord Woolton, food minister, today announced that beginning Monday, the maximum retail prices for dates will be seven pence (about 15 cents); for raisins, sultanas, currants, dried apples, prunes and figs 9 pence (about 18 cents) a pound, and dried apricots, peaches, and pears 1 shilling (about 20 cents).
